If you enjoy live theatre and/or want to be part of the production process, please support this local community theatre group by becoming a member today.

It is our members that move us and keep live theatre alive and well. They are the board of directors, the artistic crew that creates, runs and performs in every production, the volunteers that host the front of house and theatre concessions and most importantly, our patrons.

As a member you will receive advance notice of productions, special discounts and the opportunity to provide input into the future direction of the Mercury Players through participation at general meetings.
